

Y.P.S.C.E. DELEGATES
FILL BOSTON HALLSTHOUSANDS COULD NOT GAIN
ADMISSION TODAY.

Sessions Are Very Enthusiastic and the Attendance Is Exceptionally Large—Addresses of Greeting Made to the Delegates by Prominent Men of Massachusetts.

Boston, July, 12.—Thousands were unable to gain admission to the hall and tents at the Christian Endeavor session today and the meetings are very enthusiastic. Three monster meetings marked the formal opening of the session and were called to order shortly before 10 o'clock in the Mechanics' building, Tent Williston, and Tent Endeavor, the two latter structures being located on the common, an unprecedented concession on the part of the city government. Gov. Frederic T. Greenhalge welcomed the audience in the Mechanics' building on behalf of the state and the Rev. A. H. Plumb greeted the visitors on behalf of the local pastors. In Tent Williston these functions were performed by Mayor Edwin U. Curtis of this city, and the Rev. A. S. Gumbart, and in Tent Endeavor by Lieut. Gov. Roger Wolcott and the Rev. M. D. Kneeland. Responses on behalf of the society were made by the Rev. E. R. Dille of San Francisco and the Rev. John Henry Barrows. The annual report of General Secretary John Willis Baer was presented at each of the three meetings.

In Tent Endeavor the hymn of welcome, written for the occasion by Dr. S. F. Smith, the author of "America," was sung, and then Mr. Beckley introduced A. J. Crockett, president of the Boston local union, who welcomed the delegates in behalf of the Endeavorers of Boston. The welcome of the city pastors was extended by the Rev. M. D. Kneeland, D. D., of Boston. In behalf of the state of Massachusetts Lieut. Gov. Roger Wolcott then welcomed the delegates, and the Rev. J. H. Barrows, D. D., of Chicago responded to the welcome of Massachusetts and Boston in behalf of the society and the delegates.

The Rev. J. Y. Cheeseman of Cleveland, read the annual report of the secretary, John Willis Baer of Boston, after which the session adjourned.

Secretary Baer in his report likened the Christian Endeavor to a wheel, with Boston as its "hub," and continued: "Last year our wheel was strengthened by 7,750 new societies (or 'spokes,' if you please). This is the largest increase for any one year since the 'wheel' commenced revolving, fourteen years ago. We have now a total of 41,229 societies, with an individual membership from every clime and every station, with skins of varying color, of which 480 are red, 20,300 are yellow, 109,400 are black, and 2,343,560 are white—in all a great interracial brotherhood of 2,473,740."

Of the missionary roll of honor the secretary says the societies in the United States and Canada have contributed not less than $425,000 for missions at home and abroad.

Twenty-four denominational rallies were held in the afternoon in as many churches, the leaders being prominent members of the different denominations. "Prayer and praise" meetings were held in the evening at Mechanics' building and in both of the tents. The annual report of President Francis E. Clark was presented and numerous speakers addressed the Endeavorers, among them Dwight L. Moody, the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, and John G. Woolley.

During the day upward of 16,000 delegates arrived, 2,000 coming from New York and New Jersey, 200 from Michigan, 120 from Nebraska, 600 from New Hampshire, 300 from Maine, 100 from Maryland, 50 from California and over 10,000 from points in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The computation of the committee is that 60,000 have arrived from outside the state, and this number is sufficiently augmented by the general visitors to warrant the belief that over 100,000 strangers are here.

But one accident is recorded, the engine of the heavily loaded St. Louis special, three hours late, crashing into a passenger coach in the union station at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, driving the coach over the strongly bolted bunker and wrecking the iron framework in the station. Many women fainted and the delegates and other passengers were severely shaken up, but nobody was seriously injured.

There was unbounded enthusiasm for the church of one's birth or adoption at each of the twenty-seven denominational rallies in the afternoon, but at none was there a betrayal of the least sectarian bitterness. Some of the strongest men in the different denominations spoke their best thoughts, and in several cases significant resolutions were adopted.

The trustees' meeting in the evening was devoted to hearing delegations from the Pacific slope, and on the first ballot it was voted to hold the convention in 1897 in San Francisco.

So great was the crowd at Mechanics' hall in the evening that 10,000 were unable to gain admittance and a big open air meeting was held in Huntington avenue, addressed by President Clark and Mr. Woolley.

CARRIES OFF THE BRIDE.

Young Woman Kidnaped at North Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 12.—Emily James, a young married woman of North Indianapolis, was kidnaped last night by a man who drove up to the house in a buggy and compelled her to go with him at the point of a revolver. William James, the husband, his wife and another man were in the sitting-room, when a man named William Lowe, appeared suddenly in the room with a revolver in his hand, and, ordering the men to stand back, took Mrs. James by the arm and pulled her to the buggy. Lowe and the woman drove off in the buggy and the husband hurried to tell the police.

MEET AND ADJOURN.

Very Little Business Transacted by Illinois Legislators.

Springfield, Ill., July 12.—Wednesday an agreement was signed by the members to do no further business until next Wednesday and yesterday the senate transacted no business of importance and adjourned over until Saturday afternoon, the session lasting barely twenty minutes. The senate received and concurred in a resolution sent from the house setting aside Wednesday, July 17, as the day for a memorial service over the late Speaker John Meyer. It is thought that on Saturday the few senators who have agreed to remain in the city will adjourn again until Tuesday at 5 o'clock, which means Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

But little business was done in the house beyond the introduction of bills. Arbitration bills were introduced by Hogan of Cook, Bryan, Jones, Hammers and Sharrock. Jones of Iroquois and White of Whiteside each introduced a revenue bill; Morris one on child labor; Revell one to regulate justices of the peace Woolsey one to tax insurance companies.

Representative Ferns introduced bills as follows: Taxing insurance companies 2 per cent on gross amount of premium of business done in this state; taxing business of public warehouses by compelling the payment of an annual license of $5, a tax of one-third of 1 cent for every bushel of grain handled, and the same revenue bill introduced by him last session.

Mr. Merritt offered an important resolution tending to the abolition of the fee system in public offices. The resolution was ordered printed, and will come up as a special order as soon as rules of the house have been adopted.

The speaker announced the following committee on rules: Cochran, Daugherty, White of McLean, Doyd, Merriam, Needles, Klein, Crafts, Mounts and Stoskopf. The house then adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The committee, after some deliberation, reported a number of important changes, chief among which is one that will prevent the smothering of bills in committees. The change that will effect this is the addition of rule 17, which reads: "And all bills shall be reported by the committee to the house within seven legislative days after they are printed. Upon the failure of any committee to report a bill within the specified time it shall be the right of any member to demand that the said bill be placed upon the calendar and the chair shall order it so placed unless the house should extend the time for its consideration by the committee to which it was referred."

Rule 9 was changed so that the speaker may appoint a substitute for no more than three days instead of five as formerly.

SILVER FIGHT IN INDIANA.

Free-Coinage Men Organizing—Bryan to Answer Bynum.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 12.—The committee appointed by the conference of free silver Democrats that followed the annual meeting of the State Editorial association at Maxinkuckee laid the foundation yesterday for a free silver campaign. The committee, after having consulted prominent free silver members of the party, decided to do nothing at this meeting except form a temporary organization which will agitate the question, and in the course of a few weeks issue a call for a State meeting to organize a league. Mr. Clark of Greensburg was made president of the temporary organization, Mr. Strouse of Rockville secretary and Mr. Slinkard of Bloomfield treasurer. The secretary was instructed to correspond with all the prominent independent coinage Democrats in the State and invite them to attend a meeting to be held here upon the call of the temporary president. The meeting, the members of the committee say, will be held about the middle of August. It will be decided at that time whether a State delegate convention shall be called by the State committee. The committee announces that ex-Congressman Bryan has been engaged to answer the gold-standard speeches of ex-Congressman Bynum. Mr. Bryan will begin his campaign at Bloomfield some time next month.

Killed by a Mysterious Shot.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 12.—Jacob Baumgard and a companion were walking along Jacob street when suddenly Baumgard threw up his hands and fell unconscious to the sidewalk. An examination revealed a bullet hole just above his heart. Baumgard remained unconscious fifteen minutes and died. His companion and others on the street near him heard no report and there was nothing to indicate that any fire-arm was discharged.

German Epworth League.

Chicago, Ill., July 12.—A memorial service for the late President, Dr. H. Liebhart, of Cincinnati, was held by the German Epworth League yesterday morning. Dr. Liebhart, who was the founder of the German branch of the league, was killed in a railroad accident last February. During the afternoon the question as to where and when the next national convention shall be held was discussed by the delegates. The convention was given to Cincinnati by a unanimous vote, to be held in 1897.

All British Crops Damaged.

London, July 12.—The British wheat acreage is 20 per cent smaller than in 1894. The drought has damaged all the crops. Wheat and oats make an even lower percentage of condition than in the dry season of 1893, wheat being 3 per cent and oats 4 per cent worse.

Select an Illinois Man.

Denver, July 12.—At yesterday's session of the National Educational association the nominating committee reported Newton C. Dougherty, Peoria, Ill., for president, and he was unanimously elected. Other officers were also chosen.

Draw After Twenty Rounds.

Columbus, Ohio, July 12.—Australian Billy Murphy and Tommy White, the Chicago feather-weight, fought twenty rounds to a draw in the Grand Opera House here last night.

BIG FOREST FIRES

SWEEPED OVER TOWNS

DIRE WORK DONE BY MICHIGAN
FLAMES.

The Town of Wallin Is Laid In Ashes Many Lives Saved By the Heroism of a Train Crew—Nothing But Rain Can Prevent Other Villages Being Destroyed With Great Loss.

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—The upper part of the lower peninsula of Michigan is dotted all over with savage forest fires. Already the little lumber town of Wallin, up in Benzie county, has been leveled to the ground; Clary has been wiped out; no one knows how many farm houses are in ashes; the "Thumb" has been invaded, and the town of Kinde, Huron county, is girdled with fire; and ashes and black leaves are sitting down on people in the resorts to the north.

The fires are raging far to the north, too. Up in the historic Grand Traverse region the towns are all smoke-curtained. Reports from Traverse City, Petoskey, Charlevoix and other towns are all of the same tenor, that the fires have been burning for about two weeks and that a sudden strong wind has fanned them into alarming activity.

Already a number of farm houses have been burned and the people are coming into the towns with tears streaming down their faces, because, as they declare between sobs, they have lost all the property they have on earth.

The Grand Traverse region has become celebrated the last fifteen years as the district of summer resorts and fine fruits. The harder fruits of the Old Mission peninsula are shipped abroad each year, because the growers assert they bring such fancy prices it does not pay well enough to sell them in America. Over all this fruit district the wind is sifting burning cinders. It is feared that the orchards will be ruined.

Late reports from the extreme western edge of the state are that there is a little improvement in the situation, the wind having changed so as to benefit settlements near ill-fated Wallin.

TOWN OF WALLIN DESTROYED.

Much Lumber Burned—One Child Reported to Have Been Lost.

Thompsonville, Mich., July 12.—Wallin, a lumbering town, five miles north of this place was wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon. Forest fires have been raging here during the past week, but until yesterday no serious damage was done. About twenty-five houses, one store, a hotel, coal kilns, warehouse, and Sullivan Lumber Company's saw-mill, with about 2,000,000 feet of lumber were burned. One child is reported to be missing. About twenty people have been brought here, and some are in a critical condition, being badly burned. John Doyle, with a train crew and men, did some heroic work in taking out the people. Many were found with their faces on the moist dirt to prevent choking to death. All traffic was blocked for nine hours.

The fire is still running, and is within a short distance of Clary, two miles north of Wallin. Unless there is a change in the wind or rain comes nothing can save that town.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR HOMES.

Kinde, Mich., In Danger of Destruction by Forest Fires.

Kinde, Mich., July 12.—Ever since Wednesday morning the inhabitants of this village have feared that the forest fires which have been raging to the southwest would destroy the town. Last night the citizens turned out to protect the village and all night a watch was kept to extinguish the sparks which blew in from the burning forest. It was only through the continued efforts of the villagers that the houses were saved from destruction and unless the wind changes or the forest fires go out nothing can save the village, as the men have become worn out from long-continued watching and work.

Big Pottery Plant Burned.

Canton, Ohio, July 12.—The plant of the Champion Stoneware company here burned to the ground at 8 o'clock last night. The shop was the largest pottery in this section and employed large numbers of men. Fire started from kilns and the department could do nothing, owing to lack of apparatus and water. For a time it looked as if the whole manufacturing section of the town would be destroyed. Loss, $40,000, partly insured.

Clayton, N. Y., Severely Scorched.

Clayton, N. Y., July 12.—At 7 o'clock last evening a disastrous fire broke out in this village. Within two hours one of the best river hotels was burned, and with it fifteen of the finest buildings in the town. The loss will be $75,000, with an estimated insurance of $30,000.

Forest Fires Stop Trains.

Petoskey, Mich., July 12.—Forest fires have burned many country homes north and south of here and have stopped all north-bound trains on the Chicago and West Michigan. Crops were nearly all ruined by the drought, and the fire has completed the work.

Murdered by the Trolley.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 12.—Lena Groh and Stella Schlaudecker were run down and instantly killed at the corner of Lorain and York streets by an electric motor. Their bodies were mangled in a horrible manner. The motorman was arrested, charged with criminal negligence.

Engineer Killed in a Wreck.

Ponchatoula, La., July 12.—Illinois Central passenger train No. 2, which left New Orleans yesterday afternoon, was wrecked two miles north of here. John Purdy, the engineer, was killed, and the fireman, George Hammond, and baggage man, Dick Hogan, were badly hurt.

BIG LOGS CRUSH OUT

J. CULLIGAN'S LIFE

CHIPPEWA FALLS MAN IS FATALLY INJURED.

Caught Between Two Big Sticks of Timber that Inflicted Wounds From Which He Died—John Sheehan of Milwaukee Drowned While At Appleton—Other State Specials.

Grantsburg, Wis., July 12.—[Special.]—John Culligan, of Chippewa Falls, was instantly killed at the Empire Lumber Co.'s mill last night. He was caught between two big logs and crushed in a terrible manner. The remains were sent home.

Appleton, July 12.—[Special.]

John Sheehan was drowned in the Fox river last night while boating. The body was recovered and shipped to Milwaukee this morning.

Alix Is a Disappointment.

La Crosse, Wis., July 12.—About 8,000 people attended the races at La Crosse Driving park yesterday, and they were anxious to see Alix, the trotting queen, go her mile. The great mare was sore, and appeared to be making no ordinary effort when she was going at full speed. It took strong urging and a bit of whipping to make her go the mile in 2:09½. The first quarter was trotted in 32 seconds, the half mile in 1:04½, the three-quarters in 1:36½, and the fourth quarter in 32½ seconds, a 2:11 gait.

Lake Geneva Wreck Found.

Lake Geneva, Wis., July 12.—The searching party under direction of Marine Diver Anderson, of Chicago, succeeded last night in locating the Dispatch. Great hopes are entertained that the bodies will be recovered to-day.

SPOILED BY THE RAIN.

Races at the National Meet at Asbury Park, N. J.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 12.—Heavy threatening clouds cast a gloom over the visitors during the forenoon of the first day of actual racing in the National League American Wheelmen meet. Rain began to fall at 11, the trial heats were continued until 12 and the cyclists were a look of disappointment until about 2:30 o'clock; when the clouds broke, and the sun soon dried the track and the finals were run off in excellent order, beginning at 3 o'clock. The day was cool, with no wind, which made a most perfect afternoon for the races.

Summaries for the races:

One-mile novice, class A—A. C. Dirnberger, Buffalo, first. Time, 2:37 1-5.

New York Bankers' Association Elects Officers at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 12.—At the second day's session of the New York State Bankers' association, A. B. Hepburn, of New York city, chairman of the committee on "sound money" resolutions, offered a resolution declaring for "honest money," opposing inflation, free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The resolutions were considered in the afternoon and adopted. Judge Dexter, of Elmira, offered a resolution which was adopted, that the association favor the appointing by Congress of a commission consisting of experts and business men, to report to Congress a comprehensive currency system to meet the commercial needs of the nation. The report of the committee on constitution was read and adopted. The following officers were elected: President, James G. Cannon, New York city; vice president, George B. Sloane, Oswego; treasurer, A. D. Bissell, Buffalo; secretary, Ledyard Cogswell, Albany. The association will meet at Niagara Falls next year.

Southern Coal Combination.

Birmingham, Ala., July 12.—A gigantic combine has been practically completed among the coal operators of Alabama for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a fixed schedule of prices for the product and for the purpose of pooling business. A commissioner has been named, and Tennessee and Kentucky mines will be asked to join, so that a better chance to bid for export business against Pennsylvania can be secured. Domestic coal has been advanced 25 cents a ton for Monday.

Universalist Young People Meet.

Boston, Mass., July 12.—One thousand delegates were present in the Church of the Unity at the opening of the sixth annual convention of the National Young People of the Universalist Church yesterday. CASHIER DAVIS IS WANTED.

Believed to Have Robbed a Bank at Peru, Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., July 12.—Officers of the State Bank of Peru, a small town in Madison County, are here in search of C. O. Davis, their cashier, who has skipped. It is believed, with about $10,000. Davis went to Peru last January with good letters and was hired by the bank. July 5 he said he would go to Newton to visit a friend. He was away several days, and there being no occasion to open the big safe in which the reserve cash was kept, there was no suspicion. Yesterday the safe was tried and the combination found to have been changed. It has not been opened yet. It has been since learned that Davis did not go to Newton. No trace can be found of him, and it is believed that he is out of the country.

Lewis Had Planned It All.

Urbana, O., July 12.—No new forged bonds turned up yesterday in Z. T. Lewis' case. The amount of $125,000 spurious bonds remains unchanged. Frequent inquiries from outside brokers in regard to bonds came in, and will no doubt bring to light more frauds. It now looks as though Lewis had premeditated this collapse, and had prepared for it. It has just been developed here that Lewis had a scheme cornered to get hold of $250,000 natural gas bonds, of this city. His object was to replace 6 per cent bonds with 5 per cent. Had his plan been successful it would have resulted in a possible issue of a cool million. The sudden collapse balked his game.

Attempt to Burn a School.

Chicago, July 12.—An attempt was made yesterday morning to burn the D. S. Westworth school, at 70th and Sangamon streets. At 4 o'clock a call boy at the 63d streets barns of the Chicago City railway company, was passing the building and he noticed fire in one of the front rooms. He also saw two men standing on the corner. When it was discovered that the building was burning an alarm was turned in. The two men who were seen at the corner opposite the school ran away. The loss was $300.

Attendance Will Be Large.

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—Reports from county meeting throughout the State to select delegates to the free silver convention called to meet at Griffin, forty miles from Atlanta, on the 18th inst., indicate that the body will contain about 25 per cent of Populists, a sprinkling of Republicans, the rest being silver Democrats. The attendance will probably be large, as, though many counties have chosen no delegates at all, others have named forty and fifty each.

New Bug Alarms Farmers.

Louisville, Ill., July 12.—The farmers here are startled by the appearance in the timothy meadows of a new pest, which is threatening to do great damage. There first appears upon the head of the timothy stalk a dark brown comb about the size of a large pea. From this comb emerges a bug similar in shape to a Colorado potato bug, with long feelers and a large mouth. This bug cleans up everything green in its path. It is entirely unknown to the scientific men of this region. A few bugs have been sent to the State Entomologist for his inspection.

Speculators Indignant.

New York, July 12.—There is much kicking among the grain men on the Produce Exchange over the alleged leakage of the government crop report figures. Insiders, it is alleged, are just about twenty-four hours ahead of the rank and file of traders in getting the report, or, at least, figures so close to the actual condition that they can work on a practically sure basis. It is said that the Northwest also had a straight tip on the government report, for they were heavy sellers in this market on Wednesday.

Stay for Harry Haywa's.

Minneapolis, July 12.—The Supreme court has granted a stay of execution in the case of Harry T. Hayward, under sentence of death for the murder of Catherine Ging, until after the appeal can be heard in the October term.

The Russo-Chinese Agreement.

London, July 12.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent states that he is able to assert that there is a definite agreement between Russia and China with reference to the prolongation of the Siberian railway with one or more branches through Manchuria. After the payment of the first installment of the indemnity Japan will evacuate all Chinese territory except Wei-Hai-Wei, which will be held, China defraying the cost of occupation, until the indemnity is paid, which will probably be in six years, though the Chinese are convinced that they will pay sooner.

Makes Explanation to Spain.

Madrid, July 12.—The Hon. Hannis Taylor, United States minister to Spain, called upon Duke Tetuan, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and explicitly denied that the Hon. James B. Eustis, United States ambassador to France, had made the statements alleged by the Paris Figaro in a purported interview with Mr. Eustis regarding the conditions of Cuba. Mr. Taylor renewed the protestations of friendship toward Spain on the part of the United States.

Kurd Depredations Continue.

Constantinople, July 12.—Two American missionaries arrived at Moosh yesterday to distribute the funds collected in England for the starving Armenians. The condition of the Armenians at Van shows no signs of improvement. The Kurds are continuing their depredations.

PLAN A GYMNASIUM AT MILTON COLLEGE

WELL EQUIPPED STRUCTURE IS NOW IN PROSPECT.

It Will Be 60x120 Feet and Will Cost $6,000—Rev. Richard Miller To Push the Subscription List—Tent Meeting at Indian Ford—Other County News.

MILTON, July 12.—The finance committee of the trustees of Milton College have engaged Rev. Richard Miller of Milton to raise sufficient funds for the erection of a gymnasium and assembly hall for the college. He will solicit subscriptions or donations in Milton and the region of the country about it. The building will cost, unfurnished at least $6,000, and should be erected this coming fall. Mr. Miller has had large experience in obtaining contributions for similar benevolent objects, and the committee are fortunate in securing his service. The gymnasium and hall will be located on a lot adjoining the College Campus. It is to be a one story edifice, with a steep self-supporting roof, and a floor space of 60x120 feet. Its outside wall will be constructed of stone and cement plaster, and its inside will be wainscoted and sheathed by matched lumber. It will have all the superior advantages for hearing a speaker which a spacious tent possesses. It will have a seating capacity for fifteen hundred people. The building will be used to accommodate the students of the college in their gymnastic, military and elocutionary exercises and the college itself in all the larger gatherings it holds on commencement days and other occasions. It will also be open for the specially great assemblies of the churches of the place, the observance of Memorial day by the Grand Army post, town fairs, public school celebrations and other meetings of prominent organizations of the town. Acting upon the gentle suggestion of the W. R. C. Wednesday afternoon, the A. D. Hamilton Post will give a picnic at Clear Lake Wednesday. A special invitation is extended to the W. R. C. of Milton Junction. J. D. Holmes and wife and Mr. Morris, of Janesville, wheeled into the village Tuesday evening. The Arrow club have representatives here every day in the week. O. E. A tramp stole $10 recently from the residence of J. C. Plumb. Moral, lock your door when you leave your house. Tourists of this kind are numerous and had much rather steal than to work. Alf. D. Burdick, who has been the guest of Chicago friends, came up to Milwaukee Monday morning on the wheelback, Christopher Columbus, thence home by rail. Sidney Green, of Philadelphia, is a guest of his mother, Mrs. J. I. Mack. Misses E. M. Tomkins and Nellie Brown, and D. W. Shaw represent Milton at the Madison summer school. TENT MEETINGS AT THE FORD.

Latter Day Saints Are Conducting Services—Capt. Norcross to Build.

INDIAN FORD, July 12.—Two of the missionary preachers of the Latter Day Saints are holding tent meetings here. It is reported that Mr. Norcross, of Janesville, will build a power house here in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, of Janesville, visit at Mr. and Mrs. Call, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Glenn and Mr. Call spent their time fishing; Mr. Glenn did the fishing, and Mr. Call looked on. BADGE TOO FAST FOR HIS FIELD
Horse Well Known Here Wins at La Crosse—Other Horse News.

Badge and Sphinxetta had another duel at La Crosse yesterday in the 2:14 pacing class, and Badge was the winner, the best time being 2:12. The last time these two met was at Janesville last fall, when Badge was also victorious, but only because he could hold a terrific pace. Flask, another sidewheeler that is well known here, won the first heat at La Crosse yesterday, and Sphinxetta got the second. By this time Badge, who had finished in sixth and fourth place, was sent for the money, and took the next three heats. Badge is entered in the 2:10 pacing class here, while Flask will place in the 2:15 class as will also Sphinxetta. The only other contestant that will be seen here was S. G. A., who did not get a place.

The Corporal, a horse entered in the 2:28 class trotting here won the 2:27 purse at La Crosse yesterday, traveling in 2:15. Lo Frain, a horse that is entered in the 2:16 class here won second money. Trotwood, who will trot in the 2:28 class here got third and Bon Ami, who will be seen in the 2:26 race at Janesville got fourth. Dr. Cronin and Pattie Clark being unplaced.

Directly, of course, had a walkaway in the three-year-old pacing class, winning in 2:10. Minnehaha got second money, Judge Hurt third and Chinch Bug fourth. The three latter will meet here in the same class but they will not have directly to compete with.

Joe Patchen went a mile at Davenport, yesterday, in 2:05, which is the fastest time made by a pacing stallion this year. The Patchen Wilkes horse is evidently in good condition and will make Strathberry go the race of his life in their Janesville match next Monday.

Thomas Phillips of Milwaukee, has the score card privilege for the Janesville meeting, and he gets out one of the best cards in use.

CHANCE FOR PUPILS TO GET A CITY JOB

SEVERAL VACANCIES ON THE TEACHING FORCE.

School Board Will Meet to Fill Out the Corps This Evening—and Doubtless They Will Select High School Graduates—The Summer School a Success.

A special meeting of the board of education has been called for this evening and the principal business will be the hearing of the report of the committee on teachers, and the filling of vacancies. At a recent meeting, the board, by resolution, retained all the old teachers who desired to remain and the clerk sent out notices with the request that they file their acceptance. Quite a number have failed to notify the clerk and some have declined. At least two of the teachers propose taking a course at the state normal school and two or three more contemplate matrimony in the near future, while it is intimated that several others have engaged to teach elsewhere, so that the board will have quite a number of vacancies to fill. The committee will not divulge their report until the meeting. It is safe to say, however, that if the members stand by their former record, high school graduates have the best chance for places, especially in the grade work.

Any person who thinks that the summer school is not a success, should watch the crowd that daily climb the hill to the high school building. The management are more than pleased with the outlook and are making the course of study complete. The latest department established is a special method course which will begin next Monday morning with an enrollment of thirty-six pupils. The primary methods will be taught by Mrs. M. C. Bloomfield of Chicago, who was formerly a teacher in the Whitewater Normal School, while Miss Elizabeth Allen, of the Milwaukee Normal School, will teach and language. Miss Lillie Godden, who formerly lived in this city, has been secured for the drawing department, which is a sufficient ground for its success. Scholars are now in attendance from Edgerton, Clinton, Milton, Brodhead, Beloit, Milton Junction, Evansville and Madison, and a number of others are expected.

A TRAMP BOARD BILL THE CAUSE OF A SUIT

EX-SHERIFF SUES THE COUNTY OF WAUKESHA.

Supervisor Cut His Claim From $17,970.70 to $16,655.50 and He Takes Legal Recourse to Recover the Difference $1,315.25—Case Comes Here On a Change of Venue

Circuit Court Clerk Theo. W. Goldin has received the papers in the somewhat celebrated case of Ex-Sheriff Deissner against the Waukesha county board of supervisors, which case is brought here on a change of venue from Waukesha county. This case has become somewhat celebrated on account of the bills which the sheriff presented to the county board for audit, they being mostly on account of boarding tramps, and aggregating $17,970.75. The board allowed $16,655.50 and rejected $1,315.25, whereupon the sheriff took an appeal to the circuit court, and then a change of venue to Rock county. The papers, which are mainly the itemized bills, make quite a bundle.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE CALLED DYSPEPSIA.

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all gone sensation at the pit of the stomach, which food does not satisfy. Eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After awhile a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with greenish colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive, the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing.

There is a frequently a spitting up of the food sometimes with a sweet taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success. Now, the Saker Digestive Cordial causes the food eaten to be digested. This will cause an appetite for more food, and this being digested will result in an increase of strength, an increase of flesh and an increase of nerve power. The tired, weary feeling will give away to vigor and courage. The pale, thin and emaciated will recover their color and plumpness, because red blood and fat are the result of properly digested food. A ten cent trial bottle will produce a result. Its good effect will be realized at once. You will not have to take a dozen bottles to find out if it is doing you any good. Try it, and then give praise to the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, New York, for the relief that you obtain.

The Old Curiosity Shop.
Can you locate it? You ought to be able to because you live in it. This world is the biggest curiosity shop that has ever known anything about up to date. Jupiter or Saturn may be able to discount it. Perhaps, and perhaps not. It is pretty full of people who are continually tinkering with themselves—patching themselves up so to speak, in a medicinal way. If they are constipated, bilious or dyspeptic they rush to the nearest drug store for a violent purgative. If they are malarious they fly for relief to that ancient but ineffectual reliance—the sulphate of quinine. This is what they shouldn't do. What they should do is to begin and pursue a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitter, the prime of alteratives and anti-malarial specifics, particularly valuable also for rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and debility, and a promoter of sleep and appetite beneficial to all chronic invalids.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 8, 1895.
The Narcoti Chemical Co., Springfield, Mass.
Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.
Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for a bottle by mail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY
1690—Battle of the Boyne; by old style the date was July 1. Boyne river is a classic stream in Ireland and has been called "Boyne of Science." On its banks was fought the decisive battle between William III, prince of Orange, and King James II, deposed king of England. James had the support of France and of a large party of adherents in Scotland and Ireland. He was defeated at the Boyne and returned to exile in France, where he died.
1849—Dolly Madison (born Dorothy Payne), widow of President Madison, died in Washington; born 1772.
1870—Rear Admiral John A. Dahlgren, U. S. N., died at Washington; born 1810.
1892—Cyrus W. Field of Atlantic cable fame died in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; born 1819.

ROCK COUNTY WOOL.
Refreshing little paragraphs like the following frequently appear nowadays in reports of the wool market.

London, July 8.—There was a large attendance at the wool sales today. American operators showed in the front of the bidding, securing many of the better lots at full rates.

So top prices are being paid for wool? That's good. But hold on; is this wool American or English? Can it have been to help foreign wool that democrats did all the tariff tinkering?

Let us see some Rock county figures.

Rock county wool, July 1892 -16 to 17 cents for unwashed; 20 to 21 cents for washed.

Rock county wool, July 1895—7 to 14 cents.

In 1892, for the month of July, the price of sheep on foot, was from $4.50 to $5, while for the corresponding time in 1895, sheep on foot are quoted a from $2 to $3.

So it wasn't Rock county wool that the Wilson law benefited. Must have been Ohio, then. No; the prices there show about the same range and so do prices in every wool growing state in the United States. American wool is worth 50 per cent less today than it was when Cleveland was elected. What is the matter with that democratic free wool law which was to increase the price so radically? Can English and Australian wool be cornering all the benefits from it? Perish the thought—and yet some wool is selling to American manufacturers in London at "top prices" and it isn't American because that is worth only 50 cents on the dollar right here at home.

ARE GOOD TIMES—CONSIDERING.

Compared with the last two years these are good times indeed.

So far the Recorder's correspondent "Truth," lives up to his name.

But still only half a million out of five million workingmen are receiving the same wages they were when democrats came into power.

So of the revival of work; there is scarcely a town in which some establishments are not idle, and every man and boy knows the reason.

The country rejoices and takes heart because the "perfidy" of some democrats defeated the effort to put the country on a free trade basis. It is reassured by the fact that a republic can majority has come into power and that no more tinkering can be done. And still it sorrows for the many industries which as yet are crippled and embarrassed, and for the millions who are yet deprived of part of their former earnings.

TO KEEP IN THE RACE.

The old idea was that it was useless to advertise in summer because there was no business. The idea is epitomized in this declaration by an exchange:

"Now, every live business man knows that to keep in the race at all, he must advertise in the summer as well as at other times."

In short, the right sort of advertising is always in season, and always pays; for the love of bargains has all seasons for its own.

Governor Upham has found in Judge Webb a sound, capable, unimpeachable man to fill the vacancy on the supreme bench. He is from near Marshfield and there has been criticism on the predominance of northern Wisconsin influence with the administration, but as to the merits of the appointment there can be but words of praise.

Milwaukee has decided to tax the property of non residents and has secured a legal opinion on the subject. The city attorney declares that mortgages, notes and securities owned by persons living outside the state can be assessed against the agents making the loans.

We have a second hand horse for sale, two houses and lots, 5 acres of second hand good land for sale cheap, or will trade for good stock of goods, and pay balance in cash. Lowell, Hdw. Co.

That Henney.

Any body most can make a buggy and with a little paint and varnish fix it up so that a small talk sells it easily on its looks. Get under the paint and what do you find. A lot of material thrown together without regard to workmanship, etc., and almost worthless for wear. Not so with the Henney, every particle of stock from the rough to finish must be first class. A rigid inspection is made on every part during the course of erection at the factory and when finished will stand the wear of years and years. Come and see our stock. F. A. Taylor.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

OUR shoe prices have scant regard for value, the most disinterested must be impressed, and surely you would not have a person say you were not up to date on all late happenings; 50 cents on the dollar our cry. You needn't be partial, take any of them at that price you wish. Becker & Woodruff.

The indications are that a large number of Janesville people will join the Concordia society in their excursion to Madison on Sunday. The train will leave Janesville at 8 a. m. and returning leave Madison at 9 p. m. Round trip only $1.20. A good time for all.

The lawn mower is a good thing. I wish it along. Our 50 cents on the dollar shoe are better and our pushing proclivities are telling. The masses understand great common sense. Becker & Woodruff.

We don't confine you to one lot, one counters or one shelf, but give you the run of the store. Any shoe in the stock goes at 50 cents on the dollar. Remember, that is your pick. Becker & Woodruff.

Do not forget to go to the bicycle races at 6:30 tonight at the fair ground, and the races at Brown Bros. & Lincoln's every day.

JANESVILLE will be largely represented in Madison on Sunday, the occasion of Concordia excursion.

The Proper Thing.

"Say, fellows," said Bad-eyed Jake to the rest of the vigilantes, "that tenderfoot who stole the horse claims to be an artist."

"In that case," replied Arizona Pete as he shifted his wad of tobacco from his left cheek to his right, "it would only be doin' the proper thing to appoint a hangin' committee to attend to his case."—Judge.

The Visitor from Kentucky.

"Come on, old fellow, do you want a drink?"

"Do I? Say; see here. All my life I've been hearing about how sharp and businesslike you New Yorkers are, and how you never waste words, and stuff like that. But I'm dinged if you fellows don't ask more unnecessary questions than'd run a wind mill."—N. Y. Recorder.

His Trouble.

Rising Young Author (angrily)—Confound these autograph fiends! They make me sick.

His Wife—But, Harry, you haven't had a request for your autograph for a month.

Rising Young Author (still more angrily)—That's just what I'm kicking about!—Puck.

Discouraging to a Preacher.

"Do you find your religious work to your liking?" a Montana minister was asked.

"Well," returned the divine, slowly, "I can't say that I do. For instance, last Sunday a newly converted member of the church who sits near the door said he'd fill me full of holes if I didn't speak louder."—Harlem Life.

He and She.

Long they lingered by the gateway.
In the garden—he and she.
He was tall and straight and stately.
She was lovely as could be.
Pale his face almost to wanness.
As he kissed and kissed her still.
And the oneness of their oneness
Was a sight to make men ill.

Great Statesman—How would you like to be appointed minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to some foreign country?

Henchman—No use. It wouldn't look dignified for me to be scrambling round a foreign country after boodle. I'd rather stay here.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Severe Test.

"And you like the new minister?" said Geraldine's aunt.

"Yes, indeed. All the girls like him. We took care that we should."

"How?"

"We secured his photograph before we would allow our fathers to call him to the parish."—Truth.

Susceptible to Frosts.

Musicians—Why is it that singers—who of all people ought to take care of their voices—are forever complaining of a cold?

Critics—I suppose it's because they get so many chilling receptions.—Town Topics.

A Mystery Cleared Up.

"How is it that your boss' sweet wines cost so much more than the sour ones?" asked a gentleman of the liquor dealer's boy.

"Do you suppose the boss gets his sugar for nothing?" was the incautious reply.—Texas Siftings.

Economical.

I must commend Jeanette and John. Their thrift could never be outdone. Though twenty chairs were in the room. Night after night they used but one.

Posse in Pursuit of a Desperado.

Princeton, Ill., July 12.—Tom Gibson, the negro desperado wanted for shooting Charles Lee at Spring Valley, and also for murder in Chicago, was given a lively chase for twenty miles yesterday by Marshal Hicks and two deputies, but made his escape by swimming the Illinois River near Hennepin. Gibson has a bad record for shooting.

SAVE DOCTOR'S BILLS

by paying attention to properly regulating the bowels thereby preventing a thousand and one derangements of the system which follow neglect of this precaution. Once used for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are always in favor. They're purely vegetable and far better, as a liver pill, than blue pills or calomel. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular—not to constipate.

Miss MARY ANGLISH, of Glen Easton, Marshall Co., W. Va., writes: "Two years ago I was pale and emaciated, food fermented in my stomach. A physician pronounced my case 'Catarrh of the Stomach,' but he could not help me. I lived a month without solid food and when I tried to eat I would vomit. At this time I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and in two weeks I was decidedly better. I am now in good health, and never felt better in my life. I have a better color, eat more, and have no distress after eating—having gained thirteen pounds since I began taking them."

HOLE IN HIS BREAST MADE BY A THILL

JOHN DOYLE BADLY INJURED
IN A RUNAWAY.

Music By T. Martin Towne—New
Overall Factory Suggested By
Janesville's Success—Miss Breese
Married in Madison—Railroad Men
Take a Rest—Brief Local Notes.

JOHN DOYLE, of Monroe, had his left breast torn open on Milwaukee street this afternoon. He sat in front of Toole's corn exchange saloon as J. H. Gately's new grey horse hitched to a two-wheeled cart, dashed down Franklin street. The thill of the cart struck Doyle, pierced his breast and knocked him senseless. Dr. C. L. Clark dressed his wounds which were first thought to be fatal. It is now believed Doyle will live. He was taken from Stearns & Baker's store to James Condon's house on Pleasant street. Besides the wound in his breast there is a great gash across the top of his head.

A buggy was wrecked over on North Jackson street last evening, and two horses, a bicycle and rider got mixed up in the debris. A farmer was driving down street in a buggy leading a second horse. Near Ravine street the farmer met D. W. Kolle riding a wheel, and as Mr. Kolle undertook to pass, the second horse took fright, plunged forward and sideways throwing the farmer to the ground and making a complete wreck of the buggy. Fortunately the buggy was the only thing damaged.

DR. H. A. PALMER got an invitation today to attend memorial services in his own honor. The doctor is vice president of the state dental association and the program for the twenty fifth annual session in Madison July 16-18 contains a full page recording his death. The mistake was due to a confusion of names and Dr. Palmer will be present at the Madison meeting in the flesh as in the spirit.

T. MARTIN TOWNE, formerly leader of the choir in the First M. E. church, and highly regarded among Janesville musicians, has issued two new songs of a popular sort. They are entitled "The Man Who Always Keeps Sweet" and "Miracles—Or, You Mustn't Kiss Your Sweetheart." The music is catchy, the words bright and like the others on Mr. Towne's long list of publications, both songs are likely to make a hit.

MISS LENA BRESEE, formerly stenographer in Dunwiddie, Goldin & Wheeler's office, was married last evening to Dr. E. C. Montgomery, at the Madison home of Colonel George W. Bird, 810 East Gorman street. The bride is a cousin of Col. Bird's and has lived with him for the past fifteen years. Dr. and Mrs. Montgomery will reside at 130 North Butler street.

TODAY and tomorrow are the last days of Mrs. Abby's stay at Sanborn's grocery. Her delicious, baking samples and tea and coffee trials are making Perfection baking powder and extracts, Diamond brand coffee and Monsoon tea favorites with those who taste them. Let Mrs. Abby serve you Saturday.

COULD you ask for more? Do you want Beloit? we mean the earth? 50 cents on the dollar is much these times. It means a hard cold cart wheel dollar to you for a rainy day. Any shoe, all high grade. Becker & Woodruff.

THE W. C. T. U. at their recent meeting expressed their disapproval of the action of the Agricultural Society in allowing liquor to be sold upon the grounds last year, and expressed the hope that it would not be repeated.

Tickets for Concordia excursion, Sunday, July 14 are on sale at C. W. Wicks, Kneff & Allen's Smith's drug store, Herman Buchholz, Bauman and Beyer's and members of the society.

TAX NON RESIDENTS ON LOCAL LOANS

JANESVILLE'S VALUATION MAY
BE SWELLED $1,000,000.

City Attorney Hamilton of Milwaukee Gives An Opinion that Will Apply Through the State if Upheld By the Courts—Treasurer Fathers Makes Some Figures.

A ruling that would swell Janesville's taxable valuation one million dollars, was made by City Attorney Hamilton of Milwaukee yesterday. If his opinion is well founded, all notes, bonds and mortgages held by non-residents, can be assessed against the resident agent. All such securities are taxable, he declares, when the owner is represented by a local agent having power of attorney.

This means that notes and mortgages the value of which is many hundreds of thousands of dollars now entered upon the books of the register of deeds as the property of persons residing in other states, can be reached by the tax commissioner and assessed at their face value.

City Figures Raised to $5,000,000.

City Treasurer Fathers read the opinion this morning, and then remarked that the notes, mortgages and personal property of non-residents were included here the Janesville valuation would go up to over five millions. Keeping valuations on the present basis. "Ed. Connell, when he was on the assessing board, took delight in hunting up this kind of property," he said, "but for some reason or other it never got on the books. There appears to be no valid reason to allow a much property to escape taxation. Perhaps a little agitation will bring it to the front, when proper attention will be given it."

IN RESPONSE TO THE FINAL CALL.

Mrs. Levi B. Carle.

With no struggle and no pain Mrs. Katherine Carle, wife of Levi B. Carle, passed from life unto death. For weeks she had been failing, her strength had been ebbing steadily and it was known that human skill had done its utmost in vain. The end came at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, all the family being at the bedside.

For five months Mrs. Carle had contested, step by step, the advances of the grim messenger, and with heroic courage yielded at last to the unequal struggle, looking out into the unknown life with a confidence born of christian fortitude, and exemplified in a character that had long been recognized in the home, and in the church that she loved.

Had she lived until December 6 she would have been fifty-eight years old. When a girl of sixteen she came to Wisconsin and four years later selected Janesville as her home, where she has since resided. In 1857 she was married to Levi B. Carle. The union was a happy one and the home established nearly forty years ago, is filled with happy memories that will long be cherished by the daughters, Nellie B. and Josephine A. and the son, Norman L. who together with the husband today mourn the greatest loss that can come to any home.

Mrs. Carle was a consistent member of Court Street M. E. church. She possessed many graces of christian character that won for her a place in the church, where she will be missed, as an active and willing worker. She enjoyed the confidence and highest regard of a large circle of friends throughout the city who had long since learned to appreciate her many qualities of mind and heart. In the home which was her citadel of strength, where she presided with modesty and thoughtful consideration, her presence will be missed with peculiar sadness. To the husband she was both wife and counsellor, to the children a mother and companion. Time alone will transform the keen sorrow to a hallowed memory. Generous sympathy will be extended in this hour of bereavement. The funeral will be held Sunday and the hour will be named tomorrow.

Funeral of Robert Acheson.

Taylor chaplain, and C. E. Church marshal. The pall bearers were all selected from the lodge, the deceased having been a member. They were: J. M. Thayer, E. J. Kent, W. G. Palmer, William Marsden, C. J. Schottle and Edward J. Bennett.

Mrs. Warren Norton.

Mrs. Lydia B. Norton, widow of the late Warren Norton, died in Chicago at the residence of her son-in-law, Frederick W. Crosby, 301 Huron street, yesterday. Mrs. Norton was a resident of Janesville in the early days, her husband being one of the founders of the First Presbyterian church. A Norton memorial window was presented by the family when the new church was built. Nearly thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Norton removed to Chicago.

Mrs. Norton left two children, J. Henry Norton and Mrs. F. W. Crosby. Funeral services will be held in Chicago.

Judge Nicholas Graham.

Judge Nicholas Graham, of Chicago, a brother of the late Alexander Graham, died Tuesday night. He was a prominent figure in the Illinois legislature for several sessions and was associated with Dr. Thomas and Prof. Ewing in forming the first philosophical association in Chicago.

THE TARRED PAPER IS NOT USED

Work on Fourth Avenue Bridge Suspended Pending a Decision.

Work on the Fourth avenue bridge was suspended this morning, and the bridge committee called together to take action on the suggestion of a citizen who advised the use of tarred paper between the planking and the paving blocks.

"In Chicago," the citizen explained, "they put down blocks that way. They cover the plank with tar paper board, then put on another coat of tar and then the blocks."

"That is a foolish idea," said Contractor John Brown; "to lay paper we would have to take up every plank, and plane them to an even thickness, or the blocks would break through the paper at every joint. Besides, it would cost $100 or more." The committee concluded that Brown was right, and the work went on again.

HEARD ABOUT SATAN OVER THE 'PHONE

FREEMAN ARNOLD BECOMES VIOLENTLY INSANE.

While Selling Peas On East Milwaukee Street He Warns Second Ward People of the Pranks Old Nick Is Likely to Attempt—Commission Finds His Mind Unbalanced.

Freeman Arnold, an elderly man from the country, spent half an hour selling peas on East Milwaukee street and two hours telling what a tight hold he had on Satan. He yelled like a tent evangelist and made children weep in terror. Constable Cochrane tried to quiet him, but the effort was wasted, and the constable finally took Arnold down to Park street. In jail Arnold became even more noisy, declaring that he was in telephonic communication with heaven—and that it took good lungs to use such a long line.

"Hello; hello!" said he with one ear up to the wall. "Is that heaven? Yes? What's that? Satan? Oh yes—good; I'm glad of that."

"Say," he yelled to the sheriff as he ran to the end of the corridor, "I've just had word that Satan is in chains and the world is free. I want to get out and see how things look."

Judge Sale appointed Drs. J. B. Whiting and E. F. Woods a commission to examine into Arnold's sanity and they found that his mind was unbalanced and that he should be sent away for treatment. He will be taken to Mendota.

'ALL SOULS' The Peoples Church

More or less truth exists in all religious organizations and in all Bibles. We ignore none. If a Buddhist can teach us we are ready to learn. If there is a word of truth in the Avesta, the Vedas, or the Koran, we want to be benefited by it. No man can afford to treat other religions and Bibles with indifference or contempt.

Whatever is true and excellent anywhere ought to be an object of our reverent and affectionate regard. No church is as truly religious as all churches ought to be. Rather than point out the defects of others, let us correct our own.

FIRE AND ACCIDENT

ROUNDEL.

My sweetest love, what time the night
Hushes the roaring of the street,
And Dian shows her silvery light—
My sweet!

I sit me down and take a sheet
Of paper, and I try to write
A dainty love song, trim and neat.

I try until the dawn is bright,
But still the verse is incomplete.
Love can't be told in black and white,
My sweet!

THE NEW WOMAN.

"Oh, it puts me out of patience!" said Miss Lambton-Hyatt, with a fretful movement of her shoulders. "I'm sorry," said I, "but you look very well when you're angry." "Oh, that is just it," she broke in angrily. "We are to be put off with a compliment, as if one cared for looks or— 'Or dresses,' said I, glancing at the pretty gown which showed beneath the opera cloak. She winced. "One must dress somehow," said Miss Lambton-Hyatt coldly. "Oh, yes, somehow," said I cheerfully. She regarded me with scorn and a little doubt. "Of course, you think you have me in a corner. But I could explain it all," said she. "Yes?" I asked. "If I liked," she said, and looked indifferently out of the window. "What station is this?" she asked. "Oh, it's all right," I answered, and there was silence in the carriage for a space.

"I wish you would see it in the proper way," she began presently, turning on me abruptly. "I will endeavor to," said I politely. "Pray explain." She frowned. "Well," said she, "you must surely see that the evolution of woman is continuing. She has developed a great deal." "Of what?" I asked. "Of nothing," she exclaimed impatiently. "Her position has developed, and she must have more freedom." "Freedom?" I asked inquiringly. "Yes, freedom to come and go, freedom to live her own life. What is the difference, pray, between man and woman?"

"Why?" said I. "There are certain differences, certainly," said Miss Lambton-Hyatt, hesitating, "but not the great distinctions that are vulgarly supposed. A woman is a mind, she has her own thoughts, and she ought to pursue her own career like a man." "But marriage?"—I began. "Pooh! Marriage!" said she contemptuously. "If she likes to marry, let her. It does a man, and it does not interfere with him." "Then a woman," said I, trying to understand, "should be as much like a man as may be?" Miss Lambton-Hyatt considered. "No," she said, "you put words into my mouth. I never said that." "Well?" I asked. She ought to be as independent as a man," said she triumphantly. She looked at her triumph at me, and my eyes wandered over her face, and to her hair down again to the rich silk of her opera cloak.

"Why do you look at me like that?" asked Miss Lambton-Hyatt irritably. "I was thinking," said I. "Oh, yes," she interrupted, "you were thinking that I am too weak or p... or fragile to be independent. That's what men always think. It's their stock argument. Argument!" She laughed and turned to me again. "I put in practice theories," she said deliberately and telling me for the effect of the thunderbolt. I started. "What do you mean?" I asked hastily. She nodded. "I live my own life now," said she. "Those life did you?"—But there I broke off, for Miss Lambton-Hyatt's sad eyes were glittering. "Oh," said I feebly, "that is interesting!" "To you think," she said, "that I am a man's coattail like other girls?" "No, indeed!" said I, shaking my head. "You think that I come and go at one's behest?" "No, no," I said, "that I head more firmly." "Do you think that I would obey—well, you, for instance?" "Good gracious, no!" I said at once.

"Do you think?"—Certainly not," I broke in hurriedly. "See how free I am," she went on, and, throwing back her cloak, she waved her long arms significantly about the carriage. "Yes, indeed," I said, looking at arms. "Here I am, at 11:30 at night, returning from a solitary expedition to the theater—all alone." "I am not," I put in bashfully. She looked at me and frowned. "Oh, that is an accident," she said. "I met you." "A fortunate accident," I murmured. "What?" Miss Lambton-Hyatt sharply. "For I added humbly, 'Well,' she said, 'it is not far better to be quite independent like this than to be forever hanging upon some one else for what you want, like an encumbrance.'" "Ever so much better," I assented quickly.

The train rolled out of the station. I leaped to my feet and thrust open the window. "Good heavens!" I said. "What's the matter?" said Miss Lambton-Hyatt anxiously. "I pulled in my head, shut the window slowly and sat down opposite to you." "That was our station," I said, looking at me in distress. "You mean?" I nodded. "Unfortunately, yes."

I jumped up and pulled at the window frantically. "Please sit down," I said. "You can do no good now. The train can't possibly be stopped." She leaned into her seat, breathing hard. "It will happen," she asked. "—said I. 'We shall have to get to the next station?' she said, with a look of interrogation in her voice and embarrassment in her manner. "The train does not stop for 20 minutes," I explained. "Oh!" she cried, "It is the last train," said she, and there's no up train before tomorrow morning." "Oh!" she cried, and stared at me, frightened. "What shall we do?" she asked in low tones. I shrugged my shoulders. "It is no use, isn't it?" said I calmly. "I can't help it," she said. "How can you be so cool? Oh, it's awful! It's awful!" I said. And she choked back a sob and gazed at me with a scared face. "I can't even let them know," I said.

"It's too late to telegraph." "Oh, Mr. Somerville," she cried brokenly, "what will they think?" "Perhaps they'll fancy you staid the night in town," I said soothingly. "Of course they're accustomed to your independent ways?" "How can you?" she cried. "How unkind of you, when I am so— They'll think I'm killed!" "Oh, no," said I cheerfully, "you mustn't think that!" "But it's so horrible," she exclaimed tearfully, "to be here, right away from every one!" "There's me," I said. "Yes, yes; I'm so glad you're here," she cried, staring restlessly about the carriage. "But—but—what must we do? Oh, do say something—do suggest something!" "We shall have to put up at a hotel," said I. "Hotel!" she exclaimed, looking at her dress and then at me. "But what will people think? What will?" "Well, it's the same for me," said I nonchalantly. "Oh, but it's different with you!" she broke forth. "How can you compare the two cases? You're a man, and"—"You're a woman," I finished for her.

She eyed me. "You are very unkind," she said tearfully. "You take advantage of me." "Indeed," I protested, "I will do exactly what you tell me. Only give me your instructions." She wrung her hands. "But I have none," she exclaimed. "I have no idea what to do."

I sat looking at her. "You might have seen what station it was and told me," she said presently in a reproachful voice. "I beg your pardon," said I apologetically, "but I was listening to you. You were so interesting in what you were saying about the independence"—"Oh, please don't!" said she. Her humiliation was so complete that I had not the heart to proceed, and I was silent.

The train slackened, settled down to an easier pace and crept decorously into the station. We landed upon a desolate stretch of platform and stood miserably watching the lights go out.

"Well, here we are," said I cheerfully as darkness slowly enveloped us. Miss Lambton-Hyatt burst into tears. I entreated her, I coaxed her, I comforted her. If I remember, I took her hand in mine. She was a pitiful little figure, with her weeping face above the gay beauty of her gown. "Oh, what shall I do?" she moaned piteously. "Don't leave me," she wailed, and held me tight. "Stay," said I, "we will see what can be done."

I found the station master going to bed and conferred with him. Then I returned, and Miss Lambton-Hyatt clutched me. "Don't leave me again," she implored. "This darkness and loneliness are so horrible." "Oh, it's all right," I said. "There's a sort of milk train passing up in ten minutes or so." Her eyes opened and shone even in the darkness. "We will go up in it," I added reassuringly. "And we shall get back?" she cried eagerly. "By 1 or thereabouts," I answered. "That's not so very late," she remarked.

She sighed with relief and dropped my hand. There was a little pause, and then she turned to me. "Thank you very much, Mr. Somerville," said she.

We spoke little till the train came, but as the engine came puffing through Miss Lambton-Hyatt eyed it with favor, and then, "It's a bother getting to bed so late," she remarked quite coolly.

We made the journey in silence. I think we had both a good deal to reflect upon.

"You will think," said Miss Lambton-Hyatt as I conducted her to her home, "that I have betrayed my sex."

I protested. "No," said she peremptorily, "it is idle to deny it. I know what you are thinking." "In that case, of course," said I. "But you are wrong," said she frankly, turning upon her doorstep. "I have a latchkey," she explained. "Of course," I assented. "No; you are wrong," she repeated, lifting her fine eyes and regarding the white stars in philosophic beatitude. "No doubt," I agreed. "You see," went on Miss Lambton-Hyatt, taking no heed of me, "our cases were quite different. You had no one to be anxious about you." "Not a soul," I said. "And then I was in evening dress, which is not suitable, and—rather embarrassing when?" "Certainly," I said promptly. "The cases are quite different, and if I had been in evening dress, and, still more, if I had had some one to be anxious about me, I should"—"Yes, Mr. Somerville, just as much as I was," she said firmly.

"Well, now," said I, "why not let us put the cases square?" "What do you mean?" she asked, looking puzzled. "Why," said I, "give me some one to be anxious about me." "You can't invent people like that," she replied, and turning her back on me put the key in the latch. "Stop!" I called. "Don't turn that!" She faced me indignantly. "What right?" she exclaimed. I seized her hand—the one with the key. "Answer me," I said authoritatively. "Will you square the cases?"

A flood of color surged over her face. "Shouldn't I be increasing my own responsibilities very much?" she asked, with a little, low laugh. "Oh, I will take those!" I answered, pulling her closer.—H. B. Marriott-Watson in New Budget.

A Doctor's Uncollected Fee.

Several years ago I was under a Dr. Smithers of Galesburg, Ills. One day he was called to treat a patient who had been seized with a severe attack of colic. The patient was one of the richest business men in Galesburg, and was noted as being very penurious. Dr. Smithers found his patient hardly able to talk, but between his groans he managed to say to the physician, "Oh, doctor, I don't think you can do anything for me, but if you can save my life I will give you $500." Dr. Smithers smiled and started to administer relief. In a few minutes the patient remarked to the doctor that he did not think it was any use, but if he was cured he would owe him his life. Six months later Dr. Smithers sued him for a small fee of $3 for one visit.—Kansas City Journal.

The Millinery Department...

With the end of June there usually comes a quietness in the millinery room, but the very successful season just brought to a close seems to be an incentive to continued activity, as the opening days of July have kept the ladies in this department about as busy as in mid-season. The popular price idea which has made other lines in this store household words, has been a great attraction in the millinery stock, and always showing the choicest productions for ladies' headwear, it is but natural that the big business of the town in this line is centered here.
